Dear applicants,

In order to fulfill the demand of international students applying for Japanese universities, JCAEMCE has been holding "Japan University Examination (JPUE)".

In the 2020 fiscal year, more than 5,000 students from five areas—Shanghai, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Malaysia, and the Philippines—are challenged to study in Japan through this examination.

Unlike the traditional study abroad method, this system has three characteristics that distinct us from others method. "No prior learning in Japanese" "Application possible in the field you want to study" "No require to go to Japan until admission to university"

The standard route for studying at a university in Japan, which is "Study at a Japanese language school and then apply to a university", is no longer necessary. This is a new way to study abroad that burden of student can be reduced.

I hope students who are interested in studying in Japan will take a first step in their life by challenging this examination. We look forward to you in the exam.

3 Exam to admission process

The "Japan University Examination (JPUE)" consists of two tests, "Written Exam / Practical Exam" and "Interview Exam". Students who meet the admission policy and judged based on the results will be notified of the "Pre-admission" from each university.

"Pre-admission" is presented as an individual offer to each student, and includes the conditions for admission (admission fees, tuition reduction / exemption conditions, scholarship conditions, dormitory and support system overview, etc.) and final examination conditions.

In addition, if the university is required to take "preparatory courses" for the pre-admission notifier, it is necessary to take the designated "Preparatory courses".

"Preparatory courses" included curriculum of "Japanese" and "Japanese culture", etc. This is a program that provides a total of 360 classes (about half a year) for 90 minutes per class. The goal is advanced Japanese language ability (N2 or higher in JLPT) to understand Japanese university classes.

Lastly, after meeting the conditions presented at the time pre-admission. Application procedure set forth in the university application guidelines will be followed, and admission will be permitted based on the final examination decision.
